To whom it may concern,

The one thing that I am very, very annoyed with about the government is that there are so many areas that need their attention. Why are they picking on something as innocent as cigarette smoking? Why don't they work on guns in the work place, or the fact that I inhale more pollution from the buses I ride behind. I am an ex-smoker that is furious about all these laws OSHA is proposing about smoking.

Sincerely yours,

Louise P. McDermott
